

Start small, then let eval value compound

Closing advice: treat evals as infrastructure and keep investing

Compounding only happens if the team keeps converting failures into reusable checks.